* * *

The Soviet engineer KOZLOV, up to now deputy manager of the uranium mines in JACHYMOV, was suddenly recalled to the USSR.

He recently left with his family taking all his furniture, clothing, rugs, and other belongings with him. For the transportation of all this he needed two railway freight cars. There are still many people around, who remember KOZLOV arriving at JACHYMOV at the end of 1946 with one small trunk.
