31. "9". Some questions produced emotional outbreaks against the Jews. On these occasions respondent asked me not to take notes, so that not remembering his exact words I have not recorded some of those. Respondent was upset to see that I was not an enthusiastic Jew-hater.
32. Maybe, to convince me about the justification of his Jew-hatred, he told me stories of trials concerning Christian blood in the Passover matzo. He also told me that almost all Communist leaders being Jews, Beria was one, too. -- His importance and activities in God as a revolutionary commander of the township might have been slightly exaggerated.
