

The information received by us indicates that the respondents from the Rising group (code numbers 220, 221, 222, 223, 224) approached our interview with considerable scepticism.

At least several of them agreed to receive the interviewers. In particular, an off-the-record conversation revealed among several members of this group a deep-seated "health-wisdom" tinged with reactionary views as well as strong anti-Semitism and anti-Communism.
